Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☐ Responsive to communication(s) filed on ____.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Art Unit 1754

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) as being anticipated by De Santis et al. '816.

Note the claims of the reference.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. § 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. § 102(f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a).

O.K. Claims 1-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over De Santis et al. '816.

The De Santis reference teaches the instant catalyst and method of producing the instant catalyst to be obvious. The claims of the reference teach the making of a hydrogel using an alkali metal silicate. The use of an alkali metal carbonate is found in claim 19. The pH conditions found in the instant invention are taught by the reference at the claims. Catalytic utility is taught at column 1 line 38.

O.K. Claims 1-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over Young '337 in view of Hu et al. '596.

Young teaches the use of reactive silicasols to be useful in making the instant catalyst. The specific use of another refractory oxide as a cogel is taught in claim 1 and claim 3. Column 4 teaches the use of alkali and alkaline earth metal silicates at line 40 et seq.

Young does not teach the use of an alkaline pH forming the catalyst.

The supporting reference to Hu teaches the use of alkaline pH in the Example at column 10.

Art Unit 1754

The instant claimed invention is obvious from the teachings applied. The references are each to silicasol catalysts which contain other metals and the method of making said catalysts. Thus the teachings of the references show the instant claimed catalyst to be obvious.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to William G. Wright, Sr. whose telephone number is (703) 305-7792. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Thursday from 6:30 A.M. to 5:00 P.M.
